

Report on Open-House Day in Montgomery Campus of Troy University

On Oct. 4, 2016, there comes the exciting Open House Day around the Clock Tower in Montgomery Campus of Troy University. There are various snacks from different countries such as China, India and local communities as well, among which Chinese dumplings, spring rolls and fortune cookies are popular with people. The visiting scholars, dressed in graceful Qipao, have introduced Chinese traditional cuisine and culture to people, making the unique Chinese food culture and Taichi and Chinese language classes publicized simultaneously. In addition, people take some photos with the visiting scholars and write down their E-mails to understand more Chinese culture.
