

Troy University 2011 eColloquium

Bedford, Freeman and Worth Publishing Group is a leading general education publisher and the academic arm of Macmillan. We focus on high quality educational materials in over a dozen disciplines. We create and deliver classroom materials that are pedagogically sound and that enhance the educational experience of the students.

Our media rich resources are extensive. They include learning solutions platforms with personalized study plans and the ability to create multi-part assignments. We offer 2 kinds of ebooks – a PDF ebook and a web-based one. We offer online videos, interactive flashcards, video tutorials, elibraries (content repositories), animation collections, and course cartridges. We offer full integration with BlackBoard, including roster and gradebook synchronization. And we work with instructors and schools to customize our products to meet their specific needs.

Please contact Brian Donnellan bdonnellan@bfwpub.com if you have any questions, would like more information or would like to set up a time to explore any of our materials in more detail.
