

IR6685: Terrorism and Political Violence (W-E)

Term 1, 2017-2018: August 14 – October 15, 2017 3 Credit Hours

Location: Camp Humphreys, Republic of Korea

Meeting Times and Dates: 0900-1800 Aug. 19-20; Sept. 16-17

Instructor: Clifton W. Sherrill
Office Phone: DSN 634-5539
Office Hours: By appointment

Office: Kadena, Japan (Education Bldg. Rm. 120)
E-mail: csherrill@troy.edu
Website: <http://trop.troy.edu/csherrill>

Course Description

An examination of the origins and significance of contemporary political violence with an emphasis on the phenomenon of terrorism. The course employs an interdisciplinary, case-study approach.

Course Objectives

After taking this course, students should have an understanding of the history of terrorism, recognition of its primary modern sponsors, means, and goals, and appreciation of the efficacy of counterterrorism policies as evaluated against the empirical record. Students should also acquire a basic understanding of insurgency as well as counterinsurgency strategy, including the challenges confronting policymakers.

Required Texts

- Hoffman, Bruce G. Inside Terrorism, revised edition. (Columbia University Press, 2006). ISBN: 9780231126991
- Kilcullen, David. The Accidental Guerrilla: Fighting Small Wars in the Midst of a Big One. (Oxford: Oxford University Press, 2009). ISBN: 9780199754090

Additional assigned readings will be available electronically through TROY library databases or through provided websites. Students will need to obtain a TROY e-mail account in order to access the TROY library databases. Students should not pay separately for articles; if an article cannot be found via the databases or listed websites, please advise the instructor.

Nature of Graduate Work

“Graduate level work differs appreciably from that of undergraduate programs. Graduate students will find that their programs are geared toward meeting certain criteria. The first of these criteria is that the graduate student should understand the ramifications of research as well as the manner in which it is conducted. Research, the context of graduate study, is conducted in a systematic, thorough, critical, interpretative, and analytical manner—free of preconceived notions and receptive to new ideas; such research attempts to collate and synthesize new patterns of meaning, discover new truths, and correct past errors. The second component of the graduate program requires that graduate students master their field of study. Such mastery would entail a thorough grasp of the subject matter, literature in the field, theory, and methodology related to the student's field of interest. Finally, every graduate program must give students the opportunity to demonstrate research skills, knowledge of the field, and opportunity to contribute to the field of study. Thus, a person who wishes to do graduate level work must be prepared to pass examinations, both written and oral, to write coherent papers that reflect the results of research as defined above, and to participate in course projects” (2017-18 Troy University Graduate Catalog, p. 4).

Course Requirements

Students are expected to keep up with the readings and to participate in class discussion. Students should obtain a TROY e-mail account and check it regularly as this will be the means of providing notice of assignment changes, class cancellations, or other matters outside of class.

A. Exams

There will be one midterm exam and one final exam in this course. The midterm will account for 25% of the course grade. The final exam will account for 30% of the course grade. Exams will include material covered in the readings and material discussed in class. The midterm will be a timed, closed-book exam (3 hours) consisting of short answer questions and essay questions. The midterm will be given in class during Week 5. The final exam will be a take-home exam provided on Thursday, Oct. 12 with the completed exam submitted via Canvas by 2100, Sunday, Oct. 15.

B. Paper

There will be a single analytical paper accounting for 30% of the semester grade. Students will have the option of completing either 1) a formal research paper presenting a theory and testing hypotheses via an appropriate research design on a topic of the student's choice (to be approved by the instructor); or 2) a literature review analyzing the scholastic literature on a particular aspect of terrorism or political violence. Students must obtain the instructor's written approval of their topic. Detailed instructions, including phased assignment due dates, are provided in the paper instructions at the end of this syllabus. Late assignments will be assessed a 10 point penalty per day late.

C. Quizzes

A series of short quizzes accounting for 10% of the course grade will be posted on Canvas. These will include an introductory syllabus quiz, with the remainder comprising weekly reading quizzes. The quizzes, other than the syllabus quiz, will have 5-minute time limits.

D. Discussion Board Participation

Departmental policy mandates use of discussion boards in Canvas. Accordingly, a series of questions will be posted in Canvas. Students must read all discussion boards and must respond to at least 3 different discussion questions over the course of the term. Some questions will require viewing of on-line videos first. Posts will account for 5% of the course grade.

E. Attendance

Regular attendance is imperative for understanding the subject as well as for maximizing your chances to succeed on the exams. Per PACOM and Troy University instructions, the site coordinator must be notified of students who miss more than 25% of classes. Attendance will be taken in compliance with this policy. Students missing class may have their grades reduced by one full letter per day missed.

Grading Policy

90 - 100	A	70 - 79	C	0 - 59	F
80 - 89	B	60 - 69	D

Incomplete grades: If a student is unable to complete all course grading requirements, the student may be eligible to request the assignment of an incomplete grade. An Incomplete grade is not automatically assigned by the instructor, but must be requested by the student and approved by the instructor. The decision to approve or reject a student's request for an incomplete grade is at the discretion of the instructor using the following criteria: Student submits a completed “Incomplete Grade Request” form prior to assignment of a course grade. Student’s progress in the course is deemed satisfactory. Student is passing the course when the request is made. The circumstances that prevented the student’s completion of course requirements are beyond the student’s control and adequate documentation is provided. A student may request an incomplete by completing and submitting to the instructor an “Incomplete Grade Request” form. This form can be found at trojan.troy.edu/graduateschool/forms.html.

Troy University Deadlines

Students can find the Troy Online calendar at <http://trojan.troy.edu/online/academiccalendar.html> listing key dates for the term, including refund deadlines, payment dates, and Comp Exam dates. Note the last day to drop classes in Term 1 is Sept. 22, 2017.

Web-Enhanced Classes

A 3 credit course requires 45 contact hours. Class meetings cover 36 of these hours, so 9 additional hours must be accounted for via Canvas. To meet this 9 hours, this course includes the following: Viewing of on-line videos (2 hours); discussion board posts (4 hours); quizzes (1 hour); and review of instructor slides/lectures posted on Canvas (2 hours). Slides will be posted in the Canvas Learning Modules. All essays and quizzes should be submitted via Canvas.

Americans with Disabilities Act

Troy University, under the guidelines of ADA and the Rehabilitation Act, makes reasonable accommodations for documented physical and mental limitations of otherwise-qualified individuals with disabilities. To provide the best possible services to students, employees, and visitors, Troy University has designated Disability Services Coordinators and Human Resources representatives on each campus as responsible parties for coordinating accommodations for persons with disabilities. For more information about physical access to building or grounds, academic or workplace accommodations, or other ADA related services, individuals should contact a Disability Services Coordinator or Human Resources representative on their campus of attendance. Specific information regarding the ADA, including contact information for responsible parties, can be found at the following link:

<http://trojan.troy.edu/employees/humanresources/documents/ADAPolicy2003.htm>

Cell Phone and Other Electronic Devices

Use of any electronic device (cell phone, tablet, laptop, etc.) by students in the instructional environment is prohibited unless explicitly approved on a case-by-case basis by the instructor of record or by the Office of Disability Services in collaboration with the instructor. Cell phones and other communication devices may be used for emergencies, however, but sending or receiving non-emergency messages during a class meeting is forbidden by the University. Use of a communication device to violate the Troy University “Standards of Conduct” will result in appropriate disciplinary action (See pp. 42-52 of the Oracle.) In order to receive emergency messages from the University or family members, devices must be in a vibration, or other unobtrusive mode. Students receiving calls that they believe to be emergency calls must answer quietly without disturbing the teaching environment. If the call is an emergency, they must move unobtrusively and quietly from the instructional area and notify the instructor as soon as reasonably possible. Students who are expecting an emergency call should inform the instructor before the start of the instructional period. The instructor in this class has opted to permit use of tablets and/or laptops in class.

Academic Honesty

By their enrollment, students are responsible for following the “Standards of Conduct” as they apply in the Troy University Pacific Region. It is the student’s responsibility to be familiar with these guidelines and to comply therewith.

Plagiarism is the use of another person’s words or ideas without proper attribution; whether intentional or not, representing another person’s words or ideas as one’s own constitutes plagiarism. Plagiarism is an ethical offense violating Troy’s Standards of Conduct and Troy’s Academic Code. All MSIR students are expected to understand the concept of plagiarism as well as the rules of proper citation. If a student has any doubt about proper attribution, it is the responsibility of the student to seek clarification from the instructor. Students deemed by the instructor to have engaged in intentional plagiarism in this course shall receive an automatic F in the class and are subject to additional discipline up to and including expulsion from the program. Students deemed by the instructor to have engaged in unintentional plagiarism are subject to disciplinary action to be determined by the instructor in accordance with the severity of the offense. The instructor uses on-line software to help detect plagiarism. Please note that no assignment prepared for or submitted in a different course may be used in this course without prior approval of the instructor.

Library Resources

Students can access online information resources through Troy Library Services home page at <http://trojan.troy.edu/library> These resources include a variety of full text databases that provide complete article texts from thousands of journals, magazines and newspapers. Among the most helpful databases are JSTOR, Academic Search Complete, and Lexis-Nexis. Remote access is available via the student’s Troy User ID and Password. Specific help for Global Campus students, including a dedicated librarian, is available at:

Note: The above schedule, readings and procedures in this course are subject to change.

IR6685: Terrorism & Political Violence
Term 1, 2017-18

Paper Instructions

Per the syllabus, a single analytical paper will account for 30% of the semester grade. Students will have the option of completing either:

1. a formal research paper presenting a theory and testing hypotheses via an appropriate research design on a topic of the student's choice (to be approved by the instructor); or
2. a literature review analyzing the scholastic literature on a particular aspect of terrorism or political violence (to be approved by the instructor)

General:

(a) Students opting to undertake a research paper should take care to review the availability of data when constructing their research question. Research papers may use either qualitative or quantitative methods, or a combination of both; however, the papers should follow rigorous standards designed to provide unbiased empirical evidence addressing the chosen question.

Students who have not taken the MSIR Research Methods course are encouraged to pursue the literature review option.

(b) Students opting to undertake the literature review should be sure to focus primarily on academic journals available online via Troy's library website. JSTOR, Academic One File, and Lexis will likely be among the most helpful databases for scholastic articles. The instructor's website has a link to IR data and policy sites that may be of use for reputable current information, but the emphasis of the paper should be on academic material. A literature review requires a complete review – not merely a “sampling” of articles.

Due Dates:

PHASED ASSIGNMENT SCHEDULE, WITH POINT ALLOCATION PER ASSIGNMENT IN PARENTHESES

Due Date	Literature Review	Research Paper
Aug. 27	nothing	Specific Research Question due (5)
Sept. 10	Preliminary Outline due (10)	Theory & Hypotheses due (5)
Sept. 24	Complete Outline due (10)	Complete Research Design due (10)
Oct. 8	Final Paper due (80)

Late assignments will be assessed a 10 point penalty per day late.

Format: Papers must be typed, double-spaced, in twelve-point Times New Roman font, with one inch margins. Do not place additional space between paragraphs. Papers are anticipated to be approximately 12-15 pages in length, with a limit of no more than 15 pages, exclusive of title page, bibliography, and notes. Please note that quality is more important than volume. Hand-written papers are not acceptable.

Citation and Sources: You may use whatever citation system you are familiar with; however, you must identify the system you are using and keep to it consistently. If I am not familiar with the system, you must be able to provide me with a system manual that I may review upon request. Proper citation requires sufficient information for me to check your sources with ease. Internet sources may be used at your own risk. Common sense should help tell you which websites are acceptable and which are not for academic work. If in doubt, it is probably best to avoid that site. Of course, you may always ask me for an opinion as to suitability. Citation of Internet sources requires more than simply listing the website. Include titles, authors, dates written, and dates accessed. Papers citing Wikipedia will be docked 5 points. Students should consult books, scholastic periodicals, newspapers, policy papers, and government documents as well as on-line sources when conducting research. Papers citing only Internet sources will not be sufficient.

Grading: Papers will be graded on demonstrated understanding, thoroughness, and integration of research into a coherent presentation. Poor spelling, grammar, punctuation, organization or style will negatively affect the grade.

PLEASE PROOFREAD.
