IV. Reports
A. Chancellor
Dr. Hawkins highlighted several items on the agenda and provided brief background comments on each. He added that a major focus of the university for the coming year will be the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) Reaffirmation process. The SACS timeline for the site team visits was shared and it was noted that the team will be on the Troy Campus during April 2009. The results of site team visits will be announced subsequent to those visits in December 2009. Dr. Hawkins further advised that a second SACS team visit will be made to campus in January 2010 to review our progress on the Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP). Dr. Hawkins mentioned a new requirement that SACS has in place is called the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) and SACS has challenged the university to focus on initiatives with outcomes that will make the university better. Dr. Hawkins said that after an analysis of our students the university has focused on creating a culture of reading. Dr. Eleanor Lee will elaborate on the QEP program later in the meeting.

Dr. Hawkins reported that the Community College Outreach program in Alabama is another exciting dimension and that TROY is already doing this in other states. The university has community college relations in places such as Washington, Arizona, and Texas. He added that with increasing fuel prices this is an initiative that shows great promise for the people of Alabama. To date there have been several two-year colleges to express an interest in partnering with the university.

An enrollment update was given and it was noted that applications suggest an increase in enrollment figures for the fall. Registrations for our IMPACT sessions are a good indicator and those numbers are up by approximately 4 to 5 percent.

Financial aid disbursements have continued to grow and Troy University processed $194M this year and expects that number to increase by approximately 9 percent in the next year.
Housing demands continue to increase and the resolution before the Board today relates to this demand.

In conclusion, Dr. Hawkins shared plans for future building projects with Board members. He also gave an update on plans for Confucius Institute and a dedication ceremony is planned for October. It was also noted that a replica of the Trojan statue will be placed on the Montgomery, Dothan, and Phenix City campuses in the coming months and an appropriate unveiling ceremony will be planned.

It will be fully implemented when the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) is implemented in the fall of 2009. The First-Year Reading Initiative was developed to promote reading and discussion among our students; to foster integrated learning; and encourage participation in campus, civic and service-learning activities. Dean Lee advised that the book selected by the selection committee for the First-Year Reading Initiative for 2008-09 was Ernest J. Gaines’ book A Lesson Before Dying. Dean Lee stated that the support across campus has been enthusiastic and there have been many who have agreed to lead a discussion session with students about the book. In conclusion, Mr. Dennis talked about bowl possibilities.
V. Other

Mr. Higgins called attention to the Bylaws included in the Board packets, in particular Section 5, page 10. He made two observations—(1) the Board appointed an ad-hoc committee and suggested that the committee come back together to make a final recommendation to amend the referenced section, and (2) the Board does not have a committee that deals with students, student services & student leadership. Mr. Higgins said there’s a Board committee that deals with academics and athletics and he would like to see another committee added to the Board that would look at student services and student leadership and how we are dealing with our students’ interaction in their responsibility to the university, community and nation. He added that voter registration drive would certainly be a part of that as would intramural sports/activities and what we are doing to make sure we have diversity in all of those organizations such as the SGA and others.

Mr. Higgins concluded by stating that at the appropriate time he would like to be ready to come back to the Board with an amendment to the Bylaws and with a recommendation for a committee that will address the items outlined.

VI. Adjournment

With no further business, the Board meeting adjourned on a motion by Mr. Dial with a second by Mr. Owen.
