

Certificate in Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Counseling (CIECMHC)

The CIECMHC is now accepting applications for 2022. The program will begin classes in Term 1 (August 15, 2022). Program information can be found in the Troy University Graduate Catalog 2021-2022 (pgs. 136-137), available here: College of Education - 2021-2022 Graduate Catalog \(troy.edu\)

All courses for the CIECMHC are completely online, except for the internship which will be completed online along with its two (2) face-to-face intensive days on the Troy University campus in Troy, Alabama.

Throughout the program students will observe an infant (0-12 month(s) starting, and the earliest is best, i.e., 0 to 1 month) and their parent(s)/family system in the home for 30 to 60 minutes several times during each term. Students are advised to identify an appropriate family for this observation prior to the start of the first course in this program.

Review for admission to the CIECMHC program is contingent on:

- 1) Supplying all requested application documentation to Troy University for admission to the Graduate School and the CIECMHC.
- 2) Passing a fingerprint background check.

If you have previously had a fingerprint background check (comparable to that required for teacher's certification by the Alabama State Department of Education [ALSDE]) within the last year, you can submit documentation of that background check for this program application.

- 3) Providing proof of liability insurance.

If your professional work requires liability insurance of you to work with clients (such as through HPSO or CNA), you can submit documentation of that current liability insurance for this program application.

This cannot be the liability insurance that your employer provides and must be in your name (or company name) and specific to your professional work.

See the end of this Information Letter for potential insurance and background check providers.

The CIECMHC program uses a cohort model where each student will move through their classes with the group of students that they started with. At this time, there is one (1) cohort per year planned. The Cohort begins each Term 1 (fall). There are limited spaces available in the Cohort.

Questions regarding the CIECMHC program, or application to the program, should be directed to the CIECMHC Program Director, Dr. Sam Booker - sbooker@troy.edu

All email inquiries must include "CIECMHC Program" in the subject line.

How to Apply to the CIECMHC Program

Applying to the CIECMHC requires two steps:

Step One: Apply for university admission to the Troy University Graduate School for the CIECMHC program. Each program you enroll in at Troy University requires a separate application. Information on that process can be found here:

<https://www.troy.edu/applications-admissions/index.html>

Step Two: Apply for program admission to the CIECMHC. Information on the program and admission requirements can be found in the Troy University Graduate Catalog 2021-2022 (Counseling Programs Admission Policy; pgs. 121-123), found here: College of Education - 2021-2022 Graduate Catalog \(troy.edu\)

A CIECMHC Program Application packet will consist of:

- A current resume/CV detailing your clinical experience
- A Letter of Intent (max. two-pages, double-spaced) stating why you should be considered for the CIECMHC program, including your clinical experience,
- Two letters of professional reference
- Fingerprint background check
- Professional Liability Insurance (send a copy of the declaration page)

All documents for CIECMHC program applications must be sent to the following address to ensure integrity, continuity, and confidentiality of the application process.

Email only the program application documents to:

dothancounseling@troy.edu or temclendon@troy.edu

Send official transcripts to: transcripts@troy.edu

All program packets must be clearly identified as a CIECMHC application

Deadline to be considered by the CIECMHC admissions committee for fall 2022 Cohort (starting August 15, 2022) is June 3, 2022.

Review of the CIECMHC program applications will begin June 4, 2022 and be concluded by July 1, 2022. All program applicants will be notified via email when program applications have been reviewed and a decision has been made.

Scholarships for CIECMHC through Troy University

The Certificate in Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health Counseling program has a limited number of scholarships each year to award to qualified applicants. These scholarships will cover all tuition (at in-state tuition rates) and associated university fees for the fifteen course hours of the CIECMHC. These scholarships will also provide a flat rate for textbooks and supplies.

To qualify for the scholarship, you will:

- Have applied to the Troy University Graduate School for entry as a graduate student.
- Have applied to the CIECMHC for entry into the program.
- Be currently enrolled in a Master's clinical (i.e., psychology, social work, mental health counseling, marriage and family therapists, early childhood education, etc.) program at Troy University, or have graduated from such a Master's program at another institution.

If awarded a scholarship, you will be required to:

- COMMIT TO COMPLETE THE PROGRAM of study with your cohort (starting in Term 1 of each year)
 - This means you must take one class each term for five terms in the order they are scheduled, from Term 1 (starting in August) through Term 5 (ending in summer).
- COMMIT TO A YEAR OF SERVICE in the Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health field in the state of Alabama following completion of the CIECMHC program.
- AGREE TO PAY BACK ALL SCHOLARSHIP MONIES if you do not:
 - Complete the program of study with your cohort,
AND/OR
 - Complete the year of service to the infants, children, and families of Alabama.
- MAINTAIN ONGOING COMMUNICATION with designated staff at Troy University as necessary to confirm your commitment to meeting the terms of this agreement.
- Allow Troy faculty/staff to share academic information regarding your progress with representatives of the Alabama Department of Early Childhood Education.
- Update your status as necessary to provide the CIECMHC program with verification of service in the Infant and Early Childhood Mental Health field in the state of Alabama for the required one year of service.

How to Apply for a CIECMHC Scholarship through Troy University

Applying for a CIECMHC scholarship requires three steps:

Step One: Apply for admission to the Troy University Graduate School for the CIECMHC program. Each program you enroll in at Troy University requires a separate application.

Information on that process can be found here: <https://www.troy.edu/applications-admissions/admissions-process-requirements/graduate/index.html>

Step Two: Apply for admission to the CIECMHC. Information on the program and admission requirements can be found in the Troy University Graduate Catalog 2021- 2022 (Counseling Programs Admission Policy; pgs. 121-122), found here:
