TROY UNIVERSITY™

The Southeast Alabama Regional Inservice Center is pleased to announce its Professional Development schedule for the summer of 2026.

YOU MUST REGISTER VIA PowerSchool. Registrations cannot be taken over the phone. When you register via PowerSchool, make sure that your email address AND phone number are current and that you check your email often over the summer. Your email address and summer telephone number are essential so that we can notify you in the event of a cancellation. All confirmations and workshop cancellations will be sent to the email address listed on PowerSchool. (<https://alsde.truenorthlogic.com/ia/empari/login/index>) Please register ASAP. Most workshops are limited. Therefore, we register participants on a “first-come, first-served” basis.

As a part of the registration process, for all virtual workshops, once you have registered in PowerSchool you must also register to gain admittance to the online classroom for your course. To register, click the link that follows the message “register in advance for this meeting.” After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

The seating capacity of presentation rooms and handouts will be based on the number of participants who register. Should there not be a sufficient number of registrations 72 hours prior to a workshop, it will be canceled and registrants will be notified. Only pre-registered participants will be notified of workshop changes or cancellations! If you do not pre-register for a workshop and decide to attend anyway, please call our office the day before the workshop to find out if the workshop is still open and has not been canceled.

The Southeast Alabama Regional Inservice Center Governing Board's continuous commitment to support our schools' requests for an individual teacher, school, and district initiatives helps build a community where educators can continually grow by striving to improve student achievement and behavior.

Title: TU-RIC Time Matters: Leadership Strategies for Master Scheduling

Date: June 2, 2026

Time: 1:00 PM—2:00 PM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 342668

Section: 557185

Grade Levels: K-4

Audience: Elementary Central Office Leaders, Principals & Assistant Principals

Location: Andalusia Elementary School, 1015 W. Bypass Road, Andalusia, AL

Description: An effective master schedule is a powerful tool school leaders have to support teaching and learning. Participants will explore leadership strategies for building schedules that reflect clear instructional priorities and honor the non-negotiables necessary for student success. Leaders will learn to protect the “big rocks” that anchor high-impact schedules, from recommended instructional minutes to collaborative structures. The session will feature sample schedules and practical models that illustrate how schools of various sizes bring these priorities to life. Participants will leave with a vision for creating a master schedule that maximizes time, supports equitable access, and aligns with their school’s mission.

Consultants: Cody Carnley, Regional Literacy Leadership Specialist, & Dr. Laura Leigh Rambach, Regional Literacy Specialist, Alabama Reading Initiative, Alabama State Department of Education

Title: TU-RIC The Principal and Local Reading Specialist Partnership: A Key Driver of Student Literacy Success

Date: July 14, 2026

Time: 10:00 AM—11:30 AM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 342690

Section: 557306

Grade Levels: K-4

Audience: Elementary Principals & Assistant Principals

Location: Butler County Board of Education, 211 School Highlands Road, Greenville, AL

Description: This session will help participants deepen their understanding of collaborative partnerships by exploring what makes an effective principal–LRS relationship. Attendees will develop clarity around the unique roles each partner plays within Student-Centered Coaching and how intentional collaboration can strengthen coaching practices. Ultimately, the session will highlight how a strong principal/LRS partnership can maximize instructional impact and positively influence student achievement.

Title: TU-RIC Run the Play, Not the Report: Moving from Scoreboard to Scorebook

Date: July 14, 2026

Time: 1:00 PM—2:00 PM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 342682

Section: 557303

Grade Levels: K-4

Audience: Elementary Principals & Assistant Principals

Location: Butler County Board of Education, 211 School Highlands Road, Greenville, AL

Description: Tired of data meetings feeling like one more draining task in an already impossible day? This high-energy session reimagines data conversations by moving beyond the traditional “scoreboard” mindset—where we rank winners and losers—and shifting toward a coaching-inspired approach that drives growth. Participants will explore why surface-level results fall short, uncover the deeper insights hidden beneath the data, and learn practical strategies for leading focused, engaging data meetings that spark clarity, ownership, and action. Get ready to transform data from charts and spreadsheets into a powerful tool for understanding processes, guiding growth, and driving real instructional impact that moves schools forward.

Title: TU-RIC Unlocking Meaning: From the Word Level and Beyond

Date: July 15, 2026

Time: 1:00 PM—2:30 PM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 342686

Section: 557315

Grade Levels: K-4

Audience: Elementary Principals & Assistant Principals

Location: Houston County Career Tech Center, 622 W. Main, Dothan, AL

Description: This professional learning session is designed to support educators in understanding how meaning is constructed across multiple levels of reading – from the word and beyond. This session highlights the role of oral language, vocabulary, and background knowledge in supporting students’ ability to make meaning at the word, phrase, sentence, and paragraph levels. Educators will engage in practical strategies that demonstrate how these components work together to strengthen reading comprehension. Participants will leave with a clearer understanding of how to intentionally connect instruction at all levels, ensuring that literacy practices support all learners in becoming meaning-focused readers.

Consultants: Shannon Cook & Kara DelVecchio, Regional Literacy Specialist, Alabama Reading Initiative, Alabama State Department of Education

Title: TU-RIC Powerful Paragraphs

Date: July 16, 2026

Time: 10:00 AM—11:30 AM

Location: Virtual -Participants will receive Zoom link upon registration in PowerSchool.

Description: In this session, you'll discover how honoring a student's "voice"—expressed through both verbal and nonverbal communication—creates a safer, more productive learning environment. We will explore how providing choice, responding to student signals, and using flexible pacing can lead to:

- Accelerated Learning: See how students acquire and generalize skills faster when they feel heard and regulated.

- Reduced Challenging Behavior: Learn to use positive reinforcement and motivation rather than coercion to decrease interference and foster engagement.

- Ethical Impact: Discuss how prioritizing dignity and autonomy supports meaningful development while maintaining high instructional standards.

Whether you work in a general or special education setting, you'll gain practical strategies for embedding choice and adjusting demands in the moment to maintain high success rates for every student.

eLearning for Educators Alabama eLearning Alabama uses a Web-based model to provide effective professional development that leads to gains in teachers' content knowledge, improvements in their teaching practices, and increases in the achievement of their students.

eLearning Alabama started in 2006 as Alabama's implementation of the e-Learning for Educators Initiative, a project funded through a federal Ready to Teach grant and multi-state collaboration between ten state education agencies and associated public broadcast stations. eLearning Alabama partners are the Alabama Department of Education Technology in Motion program and Alabama Public Television.

eLearning Alabama is an excellent way to move forward on your own professional development, responsive to your schedule and needs.

Title: TU-RIC Media Specialist Professional Learning Group (PLG): Swivl M2 in the Library

Date: June 9, 23, & July 14, 2026

Time: 9:00AM—12:00 PM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 343709

Section: 557666

Grade Levels: K-12

Audience: Media Specialist

Location: Troy University Dothan Campus, Malone Hall, Room 106, 500 University Dr., Dothan, AL

Description: This three session Professional Learning Group is designed specifically for K to 12 Media Specialists who want to explore innovative ways to support student voice, instruction, and collaboration within the library setting.

Participants will be introduced to Swivl's M2 recording device and learn how it can be used for practical, real world library applications such as student book talks, research skill demonstrations, makerspace routines, and digital citizenship reflections. Sessions are hands on and discussion focused, with opportunities for participants to collaborate, share ideas, and design simple, high impact routines aligned to their grade levels and library programs.

Media specialists will have the opportunity to receive a demo Swivl M2 device to use during the PLG. Once participants register for the PLG, they will receive a link to complete Swivl's request form in order to receive a device prior to the first session.

This PLG is structured to build from introduction to application, allowing participants to deepen their understanding across all three sessions and leave with ideas they can realistically implement during the upcoming school year.

AL-MTSS: Focusing on Educator and Student Outcomes

Title: TU-RIC Understanding the Problem-Solving Team (PST) Process within AL-MTSS

Date: June 23, 2026

Time: 8:30 AM - 10:00 AM

PowerSchool PD Course: 343066

Section: 557678

Grade Levels: K-12

Audience: K—12 Educators & Instructional Leaders

Location: Virtual -Participants will receive Zoom link upon registration in PowerSchool.

Description: This interactive virtual session provides teachers with a clear understanding of the Problem-Solving Team (PST) process as outlined in Alabama’s Multi-Tiered System of Supports (AL-MTSS) framework. Participants will explore the purpose of PST within the three AL-MTSS pillars—academics, behavior, and foundational wellness—and examine how data-driven problem solving supports student success before considering special education referral.

Grounded in Alabama Administrative Code and ALSDE guidance, this session clarifies the teacher’s role in documenting interventions, analyzing student response to instruction, and collaborating effectively during PST meetings. Participants will review required components of high-quality intervention planning, progress monitoring expectations, and the connection between Tier I instruction, targeted supports, and individualized interventions.

Through practical examples and guided reflection, teachers will strengthen their understanding of how to bring meaningful data to the table, design aligned intervention plans, and ensure fidelity of implementation. Attendees will leave with clear next steps, documentation tips, and increased confidence in supporting students through the PST process.

AL-MTSS: Focusing on Educator and Student Outcomes

Title: TU-RIC Strengthening Tiered Instruction Within the AL-MTSS Framework

Date: June 23, 2026

Time: 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM

PowerSchool PD Course: 343073

Section: 557681

Grade Levels: K-12

Audience: K—12 Educators & Instructional Leaders

Location: Virtual -Participants will receive Zoom link upon registration in PowerSchool.

Description: This interactive virtual session is designed to deepen teachers' understanding of tiered instruction within Alabama's Multi-Tiered System of Supports (AL-MTSS). Grounded in state guidance, participants will explore how strong Tier I core instruction serves as the foundation for student success, while Tier II and Tier III supports provide increasingly targeted and responsive intervention based on student need.

Teachers will examine the essential components of high-quality Tier I instruction, including clear learning targets, aligned tasks, intentional scaffolding, differentiation, and ongoing formative assessment. The session will also clarify how instructional decisions are guided by student data across the three AL-MTSS pillars: academics, behavior, and foundational wellness.

Participants will engage in reflection and practical application activities focused on planning lessons with multiple entry points, documenting interventions appropriately, and ensuring fidelity of implementation. Emphasis will be placed on proactive instructional design, progress monitoring, and collaborative problem-solving within PLCs and Problem-Solving Teams.

By the end of this session, teachers will leave with actionable strategies, planning tools, and increased confidence in delivering rigorous, responsive instruction that ensures access and opportunity for every learner.

Title: TU-RIC Igniting Curiosity: Brain Based Engagement Strategies for the Classroom

Date: June 23, 2026

Time: 1:00 PM - 2:30 PM

PowerSchool PD Course: 343080

Section: 557683

Grade Levels: K-12

Audience: K—12 Educators & Instructional Leaders

Location: Virtual -Participants will receive Zoom link upon registration in PowerSchool.

Description: This dynamic virtual session explores how brain research can transform classroom engagement and strengthen student curiosity. Grounded in current cognitive science and aligned to Alabama’s Multi-Tiered System of Supports (AL-MTSS) framework, participants will examine how attention, motivation, memory, and emotion influence learning—and how intentional instructional design can activate each of these systems.

Teachers will explore practical, research-informed strategies that spark curiosity, increase cognitive engagement, and create meaningful access points for all learners within Tier I instruction. The session highlights how novelty, relevance, productive struggle, student voice, and structured collaboration increase dopamine release and deepen retention. Participants will also examine how engagement practices support not only academic growth but also behavioral and foundational wellness outcomes.

Through interactive reflection and classroom-ready examples, teachers will learn how to design lessons that reduce cognitive overload, promote active thinking, and cultivate inquiry-driven learning environments. Emphasis will be placed on strategies that are proactive, inclusive, and responsive to diverse learner needs. By the end of the session, participants will leave with brain-aligned engagement tools, practical planning ideas, and increased confidence in fostering curiosity as a driver of achievement and long-term student success.

Title: TU-RIC PLUACLD1281 Common-Sense Best Practices for Digital Citizenship (APLDS Approved)

Date: June 10, 11, & 12, 2026

Time: 9:00 AM-1:00 PM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 318351

Section: 556911

Grade Levels: K-12

Audience: K—12 Educators

Location: Troy University Dothan Campus, Malone Hall, Room 106, 500 University Drive, Dothan, AL

Description: This is a professional learning unit designed for school leaders seeking practical strategies to support safe, responsible, and ethical technology use. Through a blended model of in-person learning and online resources, participants will explore current digital citizenship expectations, including emerging considerations related to artificial intelligence, applications, and online platforms.

This PLU supports leaders in developing an actionable implementation plan aligned to the Children’s Internet Protection Act (CIPA) and district responsibilities for Internet safety. School and LEA leaders will examine best practices, review successful digital citizenship initiatives from other school systems, and collaborate with peers to design training approaches for teachers, students, and families. By the end of the unit, participants will have a customized plan to guide digital citizenship, digital literacy, and digital safety efforts within their school or district.

Title: TU-RIC Unlocking Meaning: From the Word Level and Beyond

Date: July 15, 2026

Time: 1:00 PM—2:30 PM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 342660

Section: 557349

Grade Levels: K-4

Audience: K-5 Teachers, EL Teachers, Interventionists, SPED Teachers

Location: Houston County Career Tech Center, 622 W. Main, Dothan, AL

Description: This professional learning session is designed to support educators in understanding how meaning is constructed across multiple levels of reading – from the word and beyond. This session highlights the role of oral language, vocabulary, and background knowledge in supporting students' ability to make meaning at the word, phrase, sentence, and paragraph levels. Educators will engage in practical strategies that demonstrate how these components work together to strengthen reading comprehension. Participants will leave with a clearer understanding of how to intentionally connect instruction at all levels, ensuring that literacy practices support all learners in becoming meaning-focused readers.

Writing in the Social Studies Classroom

Title: TU-RIC Increasing Achievement: Writing in the Social Studies Classroom

Date: June 25, 2026

Time: 9:00AM—2:00 PM

PowerSchool PD- Course: 343688

Section: 557617

Grade Levels: 3 -12

Audience: Grades 3 - 12 Teachers, 3 -12 Instructional Leaders

Location: Troy University Extended Learning Center, Room 117, 1101 S. Brundidge St., Troy, AL

Description: This engaging workshop is designed to help social studies teachers use purposeful writing strategies to deepen student understanding and increase academic achievement. Participants will explore how writing can be used not just as an assessment tool, but as a powerful method for learning, thinking, and communicating in history, civics, geography, and economics.

Teachers will examine the distinct ways professionals in the social studies disciplines write and think, and learn how to model and teach these skills to students. By integrating discipline-specific writing tasks, educators can help students analyze sources, construct evidence-based arguments, and clearly communicate complex ideas.

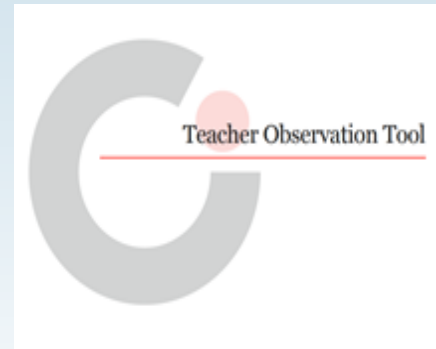

Participants will leave with practical strategies, sample writing tasks, and scaffolding techniques that support diverse learners while promoting critical thinking and content mastery.

Registration for TROY University BEST Robotics will open May 2026.

BEST Robotics

We encourage you to begin working with your teams now to plan for participation in the 2026 game, Byte to Bite.

2026 BEST Robotics Game Teaser: Byte to Bite

<https://youtu.be/Nx9aPxrVLC>

Please note that we are only be able to support 16 teams, so early registration is strongly encouraged.

The competition is free for schools to participate. At a minimum, teams are responsible only for travel expenses to and from Troy for competition events. All necessary robot equipment will be loaned to participating schools for the 8-week build and competition period and must be returned at the conclusion of the season.

Each school (public, private, or homeschool) may enter one team, with no limit on the number of student participants. As you begin organizing your team, please consider the following:

- Advisor/Primary Contact: A teacher or school representative to coordinate the team and serve as the main point of communication.
- Workspace: A location with basic tools for building and testing the robot.
- Mentors: Community members or professionals (e.g., engineers, skilled workers, parents) to support students.
- Funding: While the competition is free, plan for minor costs such as travel, team shirts, or practice materials.
- Student Interest: A motivated group of students ready to engage in engineering design, documentation, and teamwork.
- Time Commitment: The 8-week (56 Days of BEST) season is fast-paced and requires dedication and consistent participation.

Important Season Dates (Tentative):

- Kickoff / Kit Distribution – Early September 2026
- Practice Day – October 2026
- Game Day Competition – Late October/November 2026

For more information on starting or registering a team, please contact Dr. Robin Bynum, Executive Director of Educational Outreach for the College of Education and Behavioral Sciences, Troy University, at (334) 670-5978.
