

Year in Review 2019

Where flowers bloom, so does hope.

LADY BIRD JOHNSON

Welcome to the 28th annual Year in Review for the Office of Sponsored Programs.

Sponsored Programs works with Troy University faculty, staff and students from a project's inception to its conclusion. Some of these sponsored grants and contracts now extend across many years and in some cases, even decades.

The Office of Sponsored Programs is a communication link between the University community and sponsors outside of the University- federal, state, and private sector foundations and corporations. These partnerships are essential for Troy University to achieve, and extend, its mission as an institution of higher learning. These partnerships, over time, have provided scholarships for deserving students, have helped introduce the next generation to the power of learning, and have provided support for the means of instruction and the paths to campus beautification. Most importantly, the Office of Sponsored Programs and all those faculty, staff and students who have been a part of these activities have embodied the University's original motto providing support for the minds, hearts and actions of all those who are Trojans.

Congratulations to all those individuals included in this year's Review and all the years previous.
