DR. THOMAS HARRISON RECOGNIZED FOR OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENTS

"Leadership is the process by which leaders provide purpose, direction, and motivation to inspire others to accomplish the mission of the organization." This statement by John W. Gardner, former president of the Carnegie Corporation, reflected the mood at the conclusion of the annual faculty/staff meeting at Troy State University at Dothan recently.

Dr. Mary Eve Shoaf, Assistant Professor of Art and Music at TSUD and chairperson of the University Courtesy Committee, presented Dr. Thomas Harrison, TSUD President, with a plaque recognizing the many accomplishments achieved during his six years as the leader of TSUD.

"In 1985, Dr. Harrison took over the leadership role of a University where decisions had to be made concerning the location, direction, and future mission and role of the institution. Utilizing a collegial style of management, which resulted in the emergence of well defined goals for TSUD, he realistically set out to implement those goals and to give the faculty and staff leadership in the process," stated Dr. Shoaf.

Highlights of Dr. Harrison's six-year tenure include the decision to relocate from downtown Dothan to a new 275-acre campus; the securing of bond money from the Troy State University System, which enabled the construction of two attractive multi-purpose classroom buildings; the ability to secure assistance, which saved the University thousands of dollars, from the United States Army at Fort Rucker, the city of Dothan, and Houston County; the tenacity and determination of will which resulted in a livable Wiregrass Inter-institutional Coordinating Agreement with Wallace Community College; the lobbying efforts which saw TSUD's funding increase from 34% to 68% of documented need; the experience of sixteen consecutive quarters of increased enrollment at TSUD; the development of new and viable academic program options and concentrations; the successful completion of SACS reaffirmation of accreditation; the sale of downtown properties, which has resulted not only in revenue for the University, but by the conditions of the sale, has contributed to the revitalization of the downtown core; and the increased involvement of Troy State University at Dothan in the community demonstrated by the deeding of property for Kelly Springs Elementary School and the transfer of a downtown property to the Houston County Board of Education for use as an alternative school. Dr. Harrison was also recognized for his many affiliations with educational, professional, and civic organizations.

TROY STATE UNIVERSITY AT DOTHAN SURVIVING BUDGET CUTS

According to a survey of 47 states by the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU), approximately 30 states cut their higher education budgets an average of 3.9 percent in fiscal year 1990-91. Alabama, with a cut amounting to 6.5

percent, was no exception. Because of a 6.5 percent cut in state funding, Troy State University at Dothan lost $185,224.

Due to increases in enrollment and budget cuts during the 1990-91 year, TSUD will survive the current year without any major cuts in providing a quality education. The problems are likely to arise during the 1991-92 year. The budget for 1991-92 is based on a prorated budget of 6.5 percent. This means that the employment of needed faculty members will be delayed, no new programs will be added, necessary purchases to support the academic process may be delayed and there will be no salary increases for faculty and staff for the fiscal year 1991-92.

It is the policy of TSUD officials to cut funds in areas that will have the least impact on the academic process. Several mid-year adjustments were made in order to cope with a prorated budget. An employment freeze was initiated. No new positions were approved and replacement positions were screened very carefully. Working hours for part-time employees were reviewed and reduced when possible. Library acquisitions were reduced; equipment purchases and some maintenance projects were deferred; travel was reduced; and energy saving methods were reviewed and initiated.

The budget cuts, according to the AASCU survey, have led to double-digit tuition increases in many states. The average tuition increase is anticipated to be 12.9 percent in the states where mid-year cuts occurred. The survey also pointed out that the average tuition increase in states where there had been no budget cuts will average 5.6 percent. The average increase for Alabama Public Senior Institutions is projected to be 6.54 percent for the 1991-92 fiscal year. TSUD has experienced a 5.38 percent increase to help offset the lack of state funding.

As TSUD approached fall quarter registration, it was impossible to project the impact that the increased tuition rate would have on TSUD students. The increase has placed a financial burden on several students. Even with an increase in tuition at TSUD, rates are very reasonable when compared to other institutions in Alabama and surrounding states.

TSUD officials are very optimistic that enrollment will continue to grow and that funds will be available to expand programs, facilities, faculty, and staff to meet the needs of the Wiregrass region.

TSUD HAS RECORD HIGH FALL QUARTER ENROLLMENT

Officials at Troy State University at Dothan are extremely pleased with the enrollment figures for the 1991 Fall Quarter. The official enrollment for the fall quarter is 2,022, a 5.6% increase over the 1990 Fall Quarter. This is the first time in the history of TSUD that the fall quarter enrollment has exceeded 2,000 students. It is the seventeenth consecutive quarter that enrollment has increased over the same quarter of the previous year.

TSUD topped the 2,000 mark for the first time this past winter quarter. Unlike most traditional universities, TSUD's largest enrollments in previous years have been during the winter quarter.

In 1988, after considering demographic studies, market area, local, state, and national education trends, and various other factors, TSUD officials projected that by the year 2000 the University would have an enrollment of 3100 students. For the past three fall quarters since the projection, TSUD's enrollment has been right on schedule with the projections.

Dr. Thomas Harrison, said, "We are extremely pleased to see that we are on track with the projections made in 1988." "It's especially encouraging to experience a growth in enrollment when the economic condition of our state and nation is depressed and the college-age student population is declining," added Harrison.

In January 1991, the "Wiregrass Interinstitutional Coordinating Agreement" became effective between TSUD and Wallace Community College. The agreement states that TSUD will no longer enroll first-time-entering freshmen. "There appears to be some confusion about the meaning of the agreement," stated Tony Whetstone. "Many students seem to think that if they are a college freshman they cannot attend TSUD. This is not true. Students with any academic credit from a college or university are eligible to be considered for admission at TSUD," added Whetstone.

"We continue to strive to meet the needs of non-traditional students," stated Dr. Jack Sublette. "We offer flexible scheduling and quality academic programs."

Dr. Frank Lovrich said, "It is gratifying to have continued enrollment increases, but we know that there are academic needs in the region that the University is not currently meeting. We hope to meet these needs by developing additional programs, concentrations, and minors in the near future."

TSUD GROWTH WARRANTS EXPANSION TO NORTHSIDE MALL

Fifteen months ago, Troy State University at Dothan moved from downtown to its new campus location on Hwy. 231 N. At that time space was adequate, but University officials realized a third building would be needed soon. With an improved image as a regional university, a greater number of academic program options and concentrations, and an expanded delivery system and flexible scheduling of course offerings, TSUD has outgrown the space in its two multipurpose classroom buildings, Malone Hall and Adams Hall.

A lack of funds has caused plans for an additional building to be put on hold. University officials have been searching for alternative solutions regarding space utilization for several quarters as enrollment has steadily increased from quarter to quarter.

In August, TSUD officials and management from Northside Mall began discussing the option of occupying a portion of the fountain level at the mall. After a brief period of time and many hours of planning and deliberation, the two have reached an agreement.

Beginning immediately, a majority of the continuing education classes will be taught at the Northside Mall location. Plans are being finalized to move the entire continuing education operation and the Center for Business and Economic Services (CBES) to the mall by mid-December.

TSUD's fall quarter enrollment has grown 5.6 percent over fall quarter a year ago to a figure of 2022 students. Winter quarter is the University's largest quarter with an anticipated enrollment of approximately 2150 students. As enrollment increases the possibility of locating select academic classes to Northside Mall will be considered as space becomes limited on the TSUD campus.

ADMINISTRATIVE RETREAT: A LEARNING EXPERIENCE FOR ALL

On September 4 and 5, the Administrative Council and various department chairmen met at the Guest House at Georgia-Pacific in Cedar Spring, GA.

The first day was filled with activities regarding leadership and management skills. Dr. Marcelle C. Lovett, Dean, Division of Continuing Education and Extension at the University of North Florida presented a program centered around a John Gardner article on "The Tasks of Leadership."

On September 5, a written evaluation of Dr. Lovett's presentation was completed by those present. The majority of the day was devoted to hearing from the President, vice presidents, and deans as they discussed the goals that were accomplished during the past year and goals to be achieved for the 1991-92 academic year. The remainder of the afternoon was set aside for the discussion of and plan of action for the 1991 TSUD Faculty Survey.

BELSCHE'S ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF FACULTY ADVISORY COUNCIL

Dr. Alan Belsches, associate professor of English, has been elected chairman of the Faculty Advisory Council at Troy State University at Dothan. The council is the formal body for the collective input of the TSUD faculty on University matters.

Dr. Belsches says he wants to keep an open line of communication between the faculty and administration of the University. "It's an honor to be elected chairman, and I know there is a lot of hard work involved," remarked Belsches. "I certainly will be open when it comes to the concerns and opinions of all faculty at TSUD."

The Faculty Advisory Council will hold its fall quarter meeting in October. "The first line of business will be the development of procedures for disbursing $2,200.00 in the area of faculty research," stated Belsches.

If faculty members have concerns, they should notify Dr. Belsches or a faculty representative of the council.

TSUD BLOOD DRIVE: A GREAT SUCCESS

Dr. Alan Belsches, chairman of the Faculty Advisory Council, is pleased to report that 52 people came to donate blood. Of these, 49 units were accepted. This is twice as many units as last year.

Dr. Belsches wishes to thank everyone who participated in this year's blood drive.

UNIVERSITY DELI

It's so good to be back and especially to hear that so many of you missed the deli service. I hope you have enjoyed the new "Special Items." The deli staff hopes to have another new two-week rotation menu to go into effect in a couple of weeks. I think each of you received a menu in your mail. (Please disregard the date).

The deli has changed from styro-foam cups to paper as we received so many complaints. However, the paper coffee cups are too hot to hold. For this reason, we may revert to styro-foam cups if we continue to have many "unhappy campers." Cold drinks will continue to be served in paper cups.

Thanks again for all your support!
