

Troy Links

Important Dates

Homecoming

Registration

Financial Aid

Housing

Athletics

Records

Center for Student Success

Bookstore

[SOS
Emergency Information](#)

[Other
Parent/Student Resources](#)

[Campus Link
Newsletter](#)

Click here to unsubscribe to the Troy Parent Newsletter

The Student Advocate

November 2012

Congrats to our Trojan athletes this week! In men's basketball, the Trojans defeated Mississippi State 56-53 in the season opener at the new Trojan Arena and another solid victory in football against Navy this past Saturday, 41-31. See the basketball highlights video or the article on our defeat over Navy at troytrojans.com

Can you find your student among the crowd? The student body cheers on the the football team this past Saturday and celebrates a victory over Navy. Photo by Chip Dillard

The Many Hats of Troy

Students wear many hats these days. Mid-to-late October, students put on their thinking caps for mid-term exams and early spring registration. Currently they are now wearing a hat to keep warm while the cool weather is moving in quickly. For this upcoming week's homecoming festivities, students will be putting on a very different hat. A very familiar, tall, red and white striped hat that they remember from childhood. With the Dr. Seuss inspired Homecoming theme, "Trojans: Here, There, and Everywhere," this week should be a memorable one for your Troy Trojan. Students will enjoy a week of entertainment including skit night, a dance competition, comedy show, a 5K run, decorations, and much more.

Parents, if you care to join in on the fun, we welcome you to join the festivities on Saturday at 10am, November 17th, in downtown Troy for the annual Homecoming parade followed by more fun at Tailgate Terrace. For the main event, we can all meet up, put on our ball caps and head out to Veteran's Memorial Stadium to hear the Sound of the South Marching Band for a pre-game show, introductions of the 2012 Homecoming Court, and see the Troy Trojans defeat Arkansas State at 2:30PM. Tickets are on sale now at the Troy Athletics site troytrojans.com. For more info on Troy's Homecoming events, click here to visit the Student Government Association page.

Article by Dava Foster