

Montgomery Focus: The Charm of Chinese Calligraphy

On October 28, 2015, the 2nd session of Chinese Culture Club in October, the Chinese Calligraphy workshop, launched in Bartlett Hall on Montgomery Campus of Troy University (CIT).

Ms. Wei Yu, CIT Chinese instructor on Montgomery Campus introduced the origin and evolution history of Chinese Calligraphy to attendees as well as its artistic features. She illustrated with pictures that Calligraphy is very closely connected to the daily life of Chinese and are distinguished for being presented in many different calligraphy scripts. All the attendees are impressed by the beauty and profundity of Chinese Calligraphy and were practicing brush writing with strong interests. They were very excited about completing Chinese characters with writing brush. We believe this workshop is a good encouragement to foreign students in their Chinese language learning.
